

2015 Conference

October 25–27

New Westminster

Ebb & Flow – Navigating societal trends and expectations

Opening keynote by
Kathleen Bartels,
Director, Vancouver
Art Gallery

Join us as we explore the importance of adapting practices and evolving; finding new ways to respond to community needs and wants, societal trends and expectations. Discover how connection and collaboration can create a buoyancy that engages all audiences.

More than 40 sessions by 65 speakers, including:

- › Opportunities & Guiding Principles for Working with First Nations Communities
- › Museums as Alternate Methods of Learning: A Case Study of the Sikh Heritage Museum
- › The Chinese Canadian Artifact Project
- › Embracing Controversy
- › Curating Culturally Sensitive Collections
- › Admission Fees & Community Engagement
- › The Collaborative Process: Reaching out Across Departments, Collections & Communities

...and many more.

Closing keynote lunch with
Dr. John Nightingale, President
& CEO, Vancouver Aquarium

New this year:

- › Ask the Expert – advice for your institution!
- › How-to Workshops – deaccessioning, digitization and more!
- › Learning streams on Cultural Diversity, Collaboration, Controversy, and Skill-building.

Host hotel: Inn at the Quay, New Westminster

- › Special room rate available!

Join us at the Anvil Centre!

- › For more information and to register, visit museumsassn.bc.ca

